BULLARD DEFENDS FIRE BOARD PROGRAM SUCCESSFULLY

ADDITION OF PERMANENT MEN WITHIN CHARTER RIGHTS OF DEPARTMENT

Expenses of Department Were Not Increased—No More Men Were Added Than Tax Board Agreed to Allow—An Echo of Harbor Line Rebellion in the Affair.

The "frying" of President Bullard was a much tamer affair, at the tax board hearings last night, than the public had been led to expect. There was some interrogation of the president of the Fire Board, but it was conducted without enthusiasm, by one or two members only, while the others looked on and smiled appreciatively, whenever the representative of the first department scored a point, as he frequently did.

The notion had got about that there was a connection between the Aldermanic rebellion against the harbor line program, and the outbreak of hurricane wrath against Mr. Bullard and his program for the enlargement and betterment of the fire department. The rebellion was led by Alderman Dudley Bullard, who is a near relative of President Bullard and is associated with him in business.

It had not only got about, this idea that "there was a reason," but some members of the tax board had heard of it. Their attitude of silence did not indicate that the news had passed in at one ear and out of the other.

Mr. Bullard calmly insisted that the Fire Board had acted within its charter rights and its duty, under the law. He implied that those who were opposed to the addition of permanent men to the department, while the number of call men was reduced, had not taken the trouble to inquire much.

He also showed that the increase in the expense of the department in the past year was not as great as was claimed. He said that the increase provided by the ordinance as certain men pass from lower grades into higher.

The expense of sustaining the permanent men was met by reduction in the wage list of the call department, except in so far as the Apportionment Board had distinctly authorized, or promised to provide, for permanent men.

President Bullard of the Fire Commission told the Board of Apportionment last night that the charges made by City Auditor Keating to the effect that the Fire Board had waited before adding permanent men to the department in order to increase the force, was untrue.

He was subjected to much questioning by various members of the board. As all of the questions were along the same lines he was obliged to repeat his answer.

The regular requisition of the department this year is $155,500, an increase of $17,000 over last year. The request of the commissioners for a special appropriation this year is $124,000, which Auditor Keating recommends $12,000.

President Hinks told President Bullard that the Board had been taken to task because it waited until the end of the year and added 20 men to the force while the appropriation for the year was being made. He said that the Board had waited until the end of the year and added 20 men to the force while the appropriation for the year was being made.

"We did not wait," replied Mr. Bullard. "The auditor's remarks are not justified—it is not a true statement. We have not put on more men than we need, and we have not increased the force."

President Hinks seemed surprised to hear this, and said he supposed the sub-committee of the board had provided for the carrying of a specified number of men last year.

Mr. Bullard told the board that the members must bear in mind that the Fire Department was allowed money sponse to the invitation of the Alliance for the purpose of addressing the "Groupes" of this society.

The attitude of Frenchmen toward the Alliance Française in this country is clearly stated by the distinguished historian and professor in the Sorbonne, M. Louis Madelin, the brilliant official lecturer of last year.

In a most interesting article that he addressed in a French magazine, since M. Madelin's return to France, says that the official lecturer must represent the best of French culture, and that he must possess all the French qualities—and others besides.

According to M. Madelin the lecturer must have a feeling that they have an important mission in America. It involves upon them to dissipate the too prevalent idea that the French as a nation are light and frivolous, careless for their own and the transient diversion, and to demonstrate that there is in France an earnest cultured, literary life which appeals to the intellect in every nation.

M. Mandelot, one of the names of former official lecturers as sufficient proof of the correctness of his statement. Among these names are found Edouard Rod, Gaston Deschamps, Franz Brentano, and le vicomte d'Avenel.

Funeral of Mrs. Cornell In the Brass City

The many friends in this city of Mrs. Thomas Cornell, nee McDonald, who died last night, will be pained to hear of her death which occurred in that city on Tuesday last. Mrs. Cornell was a Bridgeport girl, the daughter of Michael McDonald of 1299 Pembroke St., who has been a resident of the East Side for the last fifty years. The funeral which was held yesterday was probably the largest ever attended in Waterbury and testified only in a small measure the universal esteem in which the deceased was held by her many friends and acquaintances. Included in the funeral cortege were many friends and relatives from this city, who had known and cherished the deceased while she was a resident of this city. Her husband died six years ago and her parents in this city have the sincerest sympathy of their many friends in this hour of affliction.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health." Mrs. EXTRA DONOVAN, Box 290, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?
